

Teach Me, O Lord, To Number My Days

From a prayer of Moses, in Psalm 90.

Teach me, O Lord, to num-ber my days, Teach me to num-ber my days,

1. That I may ap-ply un-to wis-dom my heart, That I may ap - ply my heart.
2. And let me be whol-ly de - vot - ed to Thee, To dai - ly in - crease Thy praise.
3. And sat - is - fy ear - ly my deep yearn-ing heart, That I may re - joice al ways.

I am but a man, my years are but a day: Short will be my stand, and Life is like the sand, soon trick-led through the glass: Flow - ers we ap - pear, to Three-score years and ten are all our lives may hold: Fleet-ing years we spend, a brief will be my stay, And I will not a - gain e'er pass a-long this way—per - ish as the grass; A thou - sand years with Thee, as yes - ter-day is past—tale so quick - ly told; And judg-ment greets us then our Mak-er we be - hold—

The image shows a musical score for a hymn. It consists of two staves. The top staff is in treble clef and the bottom staff is in bass clef. Both staves have a key signature of one flat (B-flat major or D minor) and a common time signature. The melody is written in the treble staff, and the harmony is written in the bass staff. The lyrics are placed between the two staves.

Teach me, O Lord, to num-ber my days, O Teach me to num-ber my days,

Words and Melody: Stanley K. Brubaker
Copyright 1998 by Stanley K. Brubaker

Harmony: Mrs. John (Elizabeth) Drudge altered by Daniel J. Christensen